INFORMS PUBLICATIONS OFFER NEW BENEFITS TO INSTITUTIONAL SUBSCRIBERS

HANOVER, MD, May 5, 2008 - The Institute for Operations Research and the Management Sciences (INFORMS®) today announced a series of new benefits to institutional subscribers and their patrons:

- NEW in 2008 – Journals Archive: INFORMS will offer in the summer of 2008 its online archival product covering journal content from 1952 to 1997. Attractive pricing will allow institutions to complete their online holdings at an affordable price. The archive includes issues from all nine scholarly journals with archival material.
- Additional 2008 content: INFORMS journals are known for providing excellent value for the money and prove it in 2008 by adding over 2,000 pages of new content across our journals while maintaining a reasonable price per page.
- Articles in Advance: INFORMS now offers peer-reviewed, revised, typeset, copyedited, and author-approved articles online in advance of their appearance in print as part of a regular institutional subscription.
- 2009 Subscription Pricing: INFORMS helps keep up with subscribers' budget planning by providing 2009 subscription prices at the earliest opportunity and maintaining a modest society-style increase.
- New Institutional Subscription Policy – New in 2009, all current institutional subscribers will receive three additional years of content back to and including 1998 as part of the regular online subscriptions. Previously, regular institutional subscriptions covered issues from 2001 forward.
- Journals Suite Discount: In 2009 INFORMS will offer their entire 12-journal suite as a discounted package to institutions. Subscribers can make their plans now.
- Hosting by HighWire Press: INFORMS journals are now hosted by HighWire Press, whose reputation and capability deliver INFORMS journals in the most useful and user-friendly way possible.

INFORMS looks forward to working with institutional customers and their patrons to provide the very best scholarly content in operations research and the management sciences at reasonable prices and with library-friendly policies.
